

Sample Marriage Interview Questions

The questions below are examples of what might be asked during the Green Card Interview. These sample questions include those that could be asked to each spouse if they are separated for their interview. In general, the Immigration Officer is trying to determine whether the relationship is bona fide. There is no right answer as the answers are dependent upon the nature of the relationship. Further, a couple may not know the answers to every one of these questions, and we do not recommend memorizing answers. Rather, by providing these details it is our intent to give you an idea of what may be asked.

We also caution that highly intrusive/personal questions may not be appropriate. If at any time you are not comfortable with a question being asked, you can inform the Immigration Officer of the same, and/or ask to have a supervising officer in attendance.

We typically recommend that you have an attorney present at your interview.
